BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 9.—It is reported here that King Albert has been slightly wounded.

ANTWERP, Belgium, Oct. 9.—The German forces in Belgium are boring through the Belgian resistance like engineers driving a tunnel through a mountain.

Whatever interferes with their advance—villages, churches, schools or anything else—is destroyed or swept aside with ruthless precision and the tremendous masses of soldiery go on.

The road from Brussels to Antwerp is one line of blackened ruins, marking the path of the army after it started to reduce the latter city.

Some towns, like Termonde, have been erased from the map—entirely wiped out.

As the Kaiser's soldiers advance, the population throughout the countryside flees like settlers before a prairie fire.

King Albert left Antwerp this morning, the city being in desperate plight and his capture or death a probability if he should remain.

Bombardment Sets City on Fire; Civilians Are Killed

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Oct. 9.—The bombardment of Antwerp began on midnight Wednesday. That noon the city was burning in four places. Inner Forts Nos. 4 and 6 have been silenced. Last night shells fell in the city at the rate of 20 to the minute.

BERLIN, via Amsterdam and London, Oct. 9.—Last night's official report says:

"No facts of decisive importance come from the western arena, the battling at Aisne still continuing. Small progress has been made near St. Mihiel and in Argonne.

"Fort Breedonk, Antwerp, has now been taken. The bombardment of the inner defenses and of the city itself has begun."

Apia, German Samoa, Captured to British Without a Shot Being Fired

HALF-DOZEN WARSHIPS VISIT THE LITTLE PORT

Prisoners of War, Numbering Less Than One Dozen, Are Removed to Suva, Fiji

Fifteen hundred British troops, protected by several war vessels, are now thoroughly established at German Samoa, making their headquarters at Apia, the former German capital and trading post in the South seas, following the unique and peaceful occupation of the territory without the exchange of a single shot, according to the news confirming the capture of the possession brought to Honolulu this morning by Governor C. D. Stearns, representing the United States at Pago Pago. Governor Stearns, accompanied by Mrs. Stearns, are passengers in the Oceanic liner Sonoma and are on their way to Washington, where the executive will hold a series of conferences regarding the stirring events now happening in that part of the Pacific.

Six warships, the Australia, Melbourne, Pyramus, Montcalm, Psyche and Philomet, accompanying the troops Monowai and Moeraki from Australia and New Zealand by the way of Suva, appeared off Apia, German Samoa, on the morning of August 27, and within a few hours the British forces were in complete possession of the German capital, according to the story related by Governor Stearns this morning.

Prepared to Shell Apia.

Three big war vessels remained some distance outside the port and were prepared to shell the town had the slightest resistance been offered. Admiral Patey was in command of the forces that brought the landing party of 1500 men recruited from New Zealand within the landlocked harbor at Apia. The Psyche proceeded in advance of the squadron, acting in the capacity of scout ship, the Australia, Montcalm and Melbourne covering the transfer of troops with their big guns.

The smaller cruisers Philomet and Pyramus, according to Governor Stearns, followed behind the Psyche while Admiral Patey at once got into communication with Governor H. Scholz, the German executive. As a result of the parley the German governor was informed that a state of siege existed. He was ordered to turn over all official papers to the British. It was not done the place would be bombarded. At 2:30 in the afternoon the German flag was hauled

SUNDAY LAW TO BE TESTED; DR. WADMAN 'GUILTY'

Anti-Saloon Supt. and Theatrical Man Alike Sentenced for Sabbath Events

FORMER WILL TAKE CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT

Judge Monsarrat Recognizes Difference Between Temperance and Amusement

That a thorough test will be given the "Sunday-closing" statute to determine whether a religious and educational service at which moving-pictures are shown is a violation of the law of 1905, was made evident today when an appeal was noted from the decision of Judge Monsarrat against Dr. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

Dr. Wadman was pronounced guilty of violating the 1905 law, as the responsible head of the services at the Popular theater on Sunday, September 27. John H. Magoon, manager of the Consolidated Amusement Company, charged simultaneously with Dr. Wadman, was also found guilty. In his case the judge held that the offense was different from that in the Wadman case. The Consolidated Amusement Company gave what was admitted to be a "show" last Sunday evening, upon persons being admitted free who had previously secured invitation tickets from the company at shows during the week.

Fines are nominal. Both Dr. Wadman and Magoon were fined the nominal sum of $1, and the costs were remitted. The judge mentioned in delivering judgment that the circumstances were such that the fine should be only nominal.

Attorney W. A. Greenwell, representing Dr. Wadman, announced immediately upon sentence being passed that an appeal would be taken to the supreme court, "on points of law."

J. C. Cohen, president of the theatrical company, stated to the Star-Bulletin that his company will take no appeal.

J. H. Magoon, manager for the Consolidated Amusement Company, stated later today that there would be no performance at the Bijou theater next Sunday. "The court has decided that it is against the law," said Magoon, "and we have no desire to break any laws intentionally, consequently there will be no further free performances Sunday evenings."

As was the case at the hearing yesterday a number of prominent men of the city attended the police court session. The Wadman case was the first upon which decision was given.

Arguments Before Jury to Commence Tomorrow—All Evidence Submitted Today

The prosecution and defense in the trial of United States District Attorney Jeff McCarn, charged with an assault with a dangerous weapon upon Claudius H. McBride, rested their cases shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

Argument of the case before the jury will commence at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, and will continue probably not later than 1 o'clock in the afternoon, following which the jury will be instructed by the court. A series of 48 instructions proposed for use were argued at some length this morning following the closing of the case.

The argument of the case will be opened by the prosecution, Attorney L. Andrews, special assistant to the attorney-general of the territory, to be the first speaker. Attorneys J. A. Magoon and Joseph Lightfoot, chief of counsel for the district attorney, jointly will argue for the defense. City and County Attorney J. W. Cathcart will close the argument.

The greater part of this morning was given over to the taking of rebuttal testimony by the prosecution. There was but brief cross-examination by the defense. Upon the completion of the taking of this testimony, the prosecution announced its case closed. The defense announced its case closed shortly after, stating that it desired to secure no rebuttal testimony.

Foster L. Davis, deputy clerk of the federal court, was called on the stand

Visitor Says Colonies Coming to Aid of Mother Country With 60,000 Soldiers

"Australia is sending 20,000 men to join the co-ops, raising 20,000 more and if England calls for further aid we can and will send another 20,000, and another, and another. And then if we are needed there will be more."

Such was the declaration this morning of Capt. J. W. Nieslgh, a Sonoma passenger on his way to the states as a representative of New South Wales in commerce and publicity. He says that the colonies are rallying to the cause with tremendous effect.

"When we sailed, 20,000 men were embarking on the transports to go to the battlefield and another 20,000 were coming up. In this second lot there are many who saw service in South Africa and will be skilled, used to fire and splendid shots. The younger men were called first but there are plenty of veterans in the second bunch."

"Our compulsory military system is now showing its benefits."

One of Captain Nieslgh's interesting statements is that Japanese cruisers will probably be used to convoy the Australian transports across the Indian ocean and perhaps farther.

Speaking of his mission to the states, he said that he will make his headquarters in San Francisco. He will be publicly representative for New South Wales and will devote special attention to trade opportunities for his commonwealth. Later he expects to go to South America and return in a

SCORE:

Boston	7	11	2
Philadelphia	1	5	0

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 9.—Boston's superb National League baseball team, built up by Manager George Stallings, took the lead today in the world's championship series by administering an emphatic defeat to the Athletics, American League champions and winners of the world's series last year.

Dick Rudolph's brilliant pitching and the hard hitting of the Boston Braves tell the tale. The Braves upset all calculations by hitting far harder than the slugging Athletics, who were held to five safeties by Rudolph.

"Chief" Bender, Philadelphia's veteran Indian pitcher, hero of many a hard battle and one of the sensations of the series last year, could not stop the batting of the Braves today.

In the sixth inning a fusillade of hits by the Bostonians drove Bender from the box and he was replaced by one of Connie Mack's youngsters, Wyckoff, who, however, could not entirely stem the tide.

Philadelphia changed batteries during the game but in the face of Rudolph's twirling the Athletics could never overcome the early lead of the Braves.

GET RUN ON ERROR. Philadelphia's only run was obtained by an error, Outfielder Moran letting a ground ball get away from him and allowing Jack Mainella to score on a single.

Both Rudolph and Bender were effective in the first inning, neither side being able to score.

In the second inning the Braves first showed their courage and skill at bat. Bender faltered momentarily, walking Whitted, Schmidt, the Braves' first baseman, could do no better than a fly, which was gobbling up, but Hank Gowdy, the Boston catcher, smashed the ball for a double.

OUTDOOR CIRCLE SECTION TOMORROW

The Star-Bulletin will publish tomorrow a section edited by the women of the Outdoor Circle and written largely by them, describing their work for the improvement of Honolulu and their plans for future activity. It was the original intention of this paper to publish these articles on the Public Service page printed once a month, but no such was found of interest and time is wasted that it could not be condensed into anything like a page and consequently tomorrow more than four pages of these special articles will appear. They are appropriately illustrated.
